Mr. HOLLINGS, from the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, submitted the following

R E P O R T

[To accompany S. 2761]

The Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, to which was referred the bill (S. 2761) to authorize appropriations to carry out title III of the Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act of 1972 during fiscal years 1989, 1990, 1991, and 1992, and for other purposes, having considered the same, reports favorably thereon with amendments and recommends that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

S. 2761 would authorize appropriations for and improve the effectiveness of title III of the Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act of 1972 (MPRSA).

BACKGROUND AND NEEDS

Title III of the MPRSA was enacted in response to growing concern about the increasing degradation of marine habitats. It provides for the protection of important and sensitive marine areas and resources of national significance through the establishment of marine sanctuaries. The purpose of these sanctuaries is to preserve or restore such areas for their conservation, recreational, ecological, or aesthetic value. The National Marine Sanctuaries Program provides the only opportunity to designate, manage, and protect entire marine ecosystems, although other programs provide for the protection and management of individual resource components such as fish or marine mammals.

Title III of the MPRSA authorizes the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary) to designate marine sanctuaries. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) is responsible for implementing title III and does so through the Office of Marine and Estuarine Management. Sites eligible for designation as sanctuaries may be located in either State or Federal waters from the outer limit of the U.S. Exclusive Economic Zone inland to the tidal limit, or in the Great Lakes.

SPECIAL USE PERMITS

The primary objective of the National Marine Sanctuaries Program is to protect nationally significant marine resources. However, NOAA has implemented a policy of promoting multiple uses of sanctuaries whenever these uses prove to be compatible with resource protection. The recent growth of commercial and public uses in several sanctuaries has complicated the management of these areas. S. 2761 establishes a special use permit system to address this problem.

ASSESSMENT AND RECOVERY OF DAMAGES TO SANCTUARY RESOURCES

In recent years, two accidents have caused significant damage to marine sanctuary resources. These events involved the grounding of a freighter, the M/V Wellwood, in Key Largo National Marine Sanctuary and the grounding and rupture of an oil tanker, the M/V Puerto Rican, near the Farallones National Marine Sanctuary. In both incidents, NOAA sued and collected large cash settlements for the damage done to the sanctuaries. However, since NOAA lacks the explicit authority to recover monetary damages for destruction done to sanctuary resources, the settlement monies were returned to the Treasury. S. 2761 authorizes the Secretary to retain and expend awards from damages for various sanctuary purposes.

ENFORCEMENT

Title III of the MPRSA grants broad authority to NOAA to conduct "necessary and reasonable" enforcement activities. However, it does not explicitly contain many of the specific authorities of other resource statutes enforced by NOAA, such as the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act and the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1973. S. 2761 amends title III to provide more uniform enforcement authority under statutes that protect living resources in marine and coastal waters and the Great Lakes.

SANCTUARY DESIGNATION

Controversy over the site designation process has plagued the program since its inception. While the Secretary has designated seven sanctuaries since the program was initiated, only one sanctuary has been designated during the past 7 years. In 1980, Congress amended the Act to streamline and improve the process. However, continued concern about site designation resulted in additional amendments in 1984 that established specific procedures and standards to be employed in designating sanctuaries. Despite these changes, concerns persist regarding the pace and administration of the designation process. S. 2761 establishes a schedule for the designation of several proposed sanctuaries that are currently under consideration by NOAA.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

A hearing to review the Marine Sanctuaries Program was held by the full Committee and the National Ocean Policy Study on June 8, 1988. Senator Hollings introduced S. 2761 on September 8, 1988. On September 20, 1988, the Committee, in open executive session, considered S. 2761. Senator Kerry offered two amendments to the bill. The first amendment called for the Secretary to issue a notice of marine sanctuary designation for Flower Garden Banks off Texas. The second amendment called for the Secretary to prepare a marine sanctuary prospectus for Stellwagen Bank off Massachusetts. After agreeing to each of the proposed amendments, the Committee ordered S. 2761 reported as amended without objection.

SUMMARY OF MAJOR PROVISIONS

As reported, S. 2761 would: (1) reauthorize title III of the MPRSA for 4 years, with funding set at $3 million in fiscal year (FY) 1989 and increasing to $4,500,000 in FY 1992; (2) provide a mechanism for controlling specific sanctuary activities which cannot adequately be controlled under current provisions of title III; (3) permit funds that are recovered for resource damages to be expended by NOAA for various sanctuary uses; (4) modify the enforcement provisions of title III to make them more consistent with the other statutes protecting living marine resources; and (5) provide a specific schedule for the designation of four new sanctuaries.

ESTIMATED COSTS

In accordance with paragraph 11(a) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate and section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee provides the following cost estimate, prepared by the Congressional Budget Office.

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, September 27, 1988.

Hon. ERNEST F. HOLLINGS,
*Chairman, Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the attached cost estimate for S. 2761, the National Marine Sanctuaries Program Authorization Act of 1988.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. BLUM,
Acting Director.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: S. 2761.
2. Bill title: The National Marine Sanctuaries Program Authorization Act of 1988.
3. Bill status: As ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, September 20, 1988.

4. Bill purpose: S. 2761 would authorize marine sanctuary programs administered by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). S. 2761 would also authorize the appropriation of $3 million for 1989, $3.5 million for 1990, $4 million for 1991, and $4.5 million for 1992 to NOAA sanctuary act programs.

The bill would also make several amendments to the marine sanctuaries act affecting the administration of sanctuaries and establishing new sources of funds for these programs. The new funding sources would include:

Special Use Permits.—Section 3 would authorize NOAA to establish a special use permit program for commercial operations—such as glass bottom boats and diving trips—in sanctuaries. NOAA would be authorized to charge a fee for the permits; the fee would be set to recover administrative costs, the “fair market value” of the use of the resource, and a reasonable return to the government.

Damages Collections.—Under current law, the amounts recovered for damages to marine sanctuaries are deposited in the general fund for the Treasury. This bill would make the amounts recovered available without appropriation to NOAA for restoration of the sanctuary and reimbursement for clean-up costs.

Civil Penalties.—The bill would make all civil penalties recovered under the sanctuaries act available without appropriation to NOAA. Under current law, civil penalties for marine sanctuary offenses are classified as miscellaneous receipts and deposits in the general fund of the Treasury.

In addition, S. 2761 would amend other provisions of the marine sanctuaries act, including new provisions affecting civil forfeitures.

5. Estimated Cost to the Federal Government:

[By fiscal year, in millions of dollars]

	1989	1990	1991	1992	1993
Authorizations of appropriations:
Authorization level.....	3.0	3.5	4.0	4.5	.....
Estimated outlays.....	2.0	3.1	3.7	4.3	1.4
Direct spending:
Estimated budget authority.....		0.1	0.2	0.4	0.4
Estimated outlays.....		0.1	0.2	0.4	0.4
Total:
Authorization level/budget authority.....	3.0	3.6	4.2	4.9	0.4
Estimated outlays.....	2.0	3.2	3.9	4.7	1.8

The costs of this bill would be in budget function 300. This table does not include spending of any collections resulting from future damage settlements, which CBO cannot estimate. Such amounts are not likely to be substantial.

Basis of estimate: For the authorizations of appropriations, this estimate assumes that the full amounts authorized would be appropriated for each fiscal year. The estimated outlays are based on historical spending patterns.

The estimated direct spending effect is based on information provided by NOAA. The budget authority shown in the table above results from collections of damages and civil penalties. Estimated collections resulting from special use permit fees are not shown in the table because they would be offset by higher spending and, therefore, would have no net effect on the budget.

The provisions of S. 2761 regarding damage collections would affect a case that has already been settled. The case involved a vessel, the Wellwood, that ran aground and damaged a marine sanctuary in Florida. The owners of the Wellwood settled for $6.3 million in 1986, payable at graduated amounts over 15 years. NOAA would receive $5.6 million of this total, which includes $1.2 in civil penalties and $4.4 million for damages and restoration costs. Payments to NOAA would not begin until 1990, because the first $620,000 of the settlement will reimburse the Coast Guard for towing costs.

CBO cannot estimate the effect of future settlements of damage cases involving marine sanctuaries, because these events are infrequent and unpredictable. As with the existing settlements, however, the amounts recovered in any settlement would reflect costs of clean-up and repair, damages, and civil penalties. Spending from the recovered amounts is not likely to be substantial.

We expect that collections from the special use permits would cover administrative costs, and bring in some additional amount, possibly around $1 million to $2 million annually, depending on the structure and amount of the fee. The fees would have no net effect on the federal budget, however, because all collections would be spent on marine sanctuary programs.

The reclassification of receipts from civil penalties would not affect the amounts collected, but would increase federal outlays because the amounts collected would be available to NOAA. The money involved is not significant, however. Aside from the substantial collections associated with settlements like the Wellwood, penalties associated with the sanctuaries act have averaged around $20,000 annually in recent years.

6. Estimated cost to State and local governments: None.

7. Estimate comparison: None.

8. Previous CBO estimate: On June 22, 1988, CBO prepared an estimate for H.R. 4208, the National Marine Sanctuaries Program Authorization Act, as ordered reported by the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, June 14, 1988. The lower estimated outlays in this estimate reflect a lower authorization level and a difference in the collections for damages that could be spent without appropriations.

9. Estimate prepared by: Michael Sieverts.

10. Estimate approved by: James L. Blum, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

In accordance with paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee provides the following evaluation of the regulatory impact of the legislation, as reported.

NUMBER OF PERSONS COVERED

Section 3 of this legislation establishes a system of special use permits for marine sanctuaries. The number of persons that could be affected by this provision encompasses the entire range of sanctuary users, from large-scale commercial ventures to the infrequent, individual, recreational visitors. The Committee expects that the special use permit system will be established in a manner that complements existing sanctuary regulations. The permit system will be directed toward limiting human use or redirecting this use within a sanctuary in such a way as to reduce the cumulative effects of chronic overuse on discrete sites or resources.

Section 6 of this legislation requires the Secretary to issue notices of marine sanctuary designation for selected areas. Once completed, the establishment of these sanctuaries could affect a large number of individuals. In the vast majority of cases, the effect will be negligible, as sanctuary designation will provide positive action toward the preservation of ecological and cultural resources.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

NOAA will incur a small cost in establishing and enforcing the special use permit system called for in section 3 of this legislation. However, the agency may assess and collect fees under the permit system to offset the cost of the system.

The economic impact of section 6 of this legislation is undetermined and must be calculated on a site-by-site basis. Limitations in use, either through regulation of activities or reduction in use levels, may impact certain sectors of the economy near the sanctuary. However, in general, regional impacts should be minimal. Issues such as economic impact must be fully discussed in the environmental analysis conducted as part of the designation process.

PRIVACY

This legislation will not have an adverse impact on the personal privacy of the individuals affected.

PAPERWORK

Some additional paperwork will be associated with carrying out the requirements of this legislation. However, the Committee anticipates that, by using the existing sanctuary framework, the increase in paperwork will be minimized.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1.—SHORT TITLE

This section provides the short title, the "Marine Sanctuaries Authorization Act of 1988".

SECTION 2.—AUTHORIZATIONS

This section would amend title III of the MPRSA by redesignating sections 308 and 309 as sections 310 and 311, respectively, and by providing authorizations of $3 million for FY 1989, $3,500,000 for FY 1990, $4 million for FY 1991, and $4,500,000 for FY 1992.

SECTION 3.—SPECIAL USE PERMITS

This section would add a new section 308 to the MPRSA, which authorizes the Secretary to issue special use permits if the Secretary determines that such permits are necessary to establish conditions of access and use, or to promote public use and understanding of the sanctuary. A permit may be granted to conduct an activity for up to 5 years if it is determined that: (1) the activity is compatible with the sanctuary purpose; (2) the activity causes no damage to sanctuary resources; and (3) the permittee obtains liability insurance and holds the government harmless against any such claims. The Secretary may assess and collect fees for the special use permits. Fees collected may be used in administering the permit system, and designating and managing marine sanctuaries.

SECTION 4.—SANCTUARY DESTRUCTION, LOSS, OR INJURY

This section, in subsection (a), adds a new section 309 to the MPRSA which contains provisions for restoring sanctuary resources that are damaged or destroyed.

Subsection (a) of section 309 provides that, except as indicated in paragraph (3) of the subsection, any vessel or person causing damage to or destruction of the resources of a marine sanctuary will be liable to the United States for response costs and damages. The exceptions indicated in paragraph (3) include damage or destruction caused solely by an act of God, an act of war, or an act of omission by a third party. Subsection (c) states that the Secretary will act as trustee for sanctuary resources on behalf of the United States. Subsection (d) enables the Secretary to retain damage awards and establishes priorities for the use of the recovered funds.

Subsection (b) of section 4 of the bill amends section 302 of the MPRSA by adding a number of new definitions to title III.

SECTION 5.—MARINE SANCTUARY ENFORCEMENT

This section amends the existing enforcement authority, section 307, of the MPRSA by further detailing the authorities of the Secretary and the courts. These changes represent a movement toward a uniform enforcement authority for NOAA under statutes protecting living resources in marine and estuarine waters and the Great Lakes. By having uniform enforcement standards, confusion among law enforcement agents is more easily avoided.

SECTION 6.—ACTIONS WITH RESPECT TO NEW SANCTUARIES

This section establishes a schedule for designation of 4 new marine sanctuaries. It requires the Secretary to issue a notice of designation under section 304(b)(1) of the MPRSA with respect to: (1) the proposed Cordell Banks National Marine Sanctuary off California; (2) the proposed Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary off California; (3) the proposed Western Washington Outer Coast Marine Sanctuary off the State of Washington; and (4) the proposed Flower Gardens Bank National Marine Sanctuary off Texas.

In addition, the section requires the Secretary to submit prospectuses under section 304(a)(1)(C) of the MPRSA with respect to the proposed Northern Puget Sound National Marine Sanctuary off the State of Washington and the proposed Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary off Massachusetts.

SECTION 7.—STUDY OF AREA FOR MARINE SANCTUARY DESIGNATION PURPOSES

This section addresses a site specific study of a potential marine sanctuary. It requires the Secretary to conduct a study to determine if a site along the California coast, commonly referred to as Santa Monica Bay, is appropriate for designation as a marine sanctuary. The Secretary is required to submit a report within 2 years of date of enactment to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries on the findings of the study.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

In compliance with paragraph 12 of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is enclosed in black brackets, new material is printed in italic, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman).

(4) PRESUMPTION.—For the purposes of this section, there is a rebuttable presumption that all sanctuary resources found on board a vessel that is seized in connection with a violation of this title or of any regulation or permit issued under this title were taken or retained in violation of this title or of a regulation or permit issued under this title.

(e) PAYMENT OF STORAGE, CARE, AND OTHER COSTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other law, the Secretary may use amounts received under this section in connection with civil penalties, forfeitures of property, and liability for costs imposed under paragraph (2) to pay—

(A) the reasonable and necessary costs incurred by the Secretary in providing temporary storage, care, and maintenance of any sanctuary resource or other property seized under this section pending disposition of any civil proceeding relating to any alleged violation with respect to which such sanctuary resource or other property was seized; and

The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction in such a case to order such relief as the public interest and the equities of the case may require.

NEW SECTION 308 OF THAT ACT

SEC. 308. SPECIAL USE PERMITS.

(a) ISSUANCE OF PERMITS.—The Secretary may issue special use permits which authorize the conduct of specific activities in a national marine sanctuary if the Secretary determines such authorization is necessary—

(1) to establish conditions of access to and use of any sanctuary resource; or

(2) to promote public use and understanding of a sanctuary resource.

(b) PERMIT TERMS.—A permit issued under this section—

(1) shall authorize the conduct of an activity only if the activity is compatible with the purposes for which the sanctuary is designated and with protection of sanctuary resources;

(2) shall not authorize the conduct of any activity for a period of more than 5 years unless renewed by the Secretary;

(3) shall require that activities carried out under the permit be conducted in a manner that does not destroy, cause the loss of, or injure sanctuary resources; and

(4) shall require the permittee to purchase and maintain comprehensive general liability insurance against claims arising out of activities conducted under the permit and to agree to hold the United States harmless against such claims.

(c) FEES.—

(1) ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION.—The Secretary may assess and collect fees for the conduct of any activity under a permit issued under this section.

(2) AMOUNT.—The amount of a fee under this subsection shall be equal to the sum of—

(A) costs incurred, or expected to be incurred, by the Secretary in issuing the permit;

(B) costs incurred, or expected to be incurred, by the Secretary as a direct result of the conduct of the activity for which the permit is issued, including costs of monitoring the conduct of the activity; and

(C) an amount which represents the fair market value of the use of the sanctuary resource and a reasonable return to the United States Government.

(3) USE OF FEES.—Amounts collected by the Secretary in the form of fees under this section may be used by the Secretary—

(A) for issuing and administering permits under this section; and

(B) for expenses of designating and managing national marine sanctuaries.

(d) VIOLATIONS.—Upon violation of a term or condition of a permit issued under this section, the Secretary may—

(1) suspend or revoke the permit without compensation to the permittee and without liability to the United States;

(2) assess a civil penalty in accordance with section 307; or

(3) both.

(e) REPORTS.—Each person issued a permit under this section shall submit an annual report to the Secretary not later than December 31 of each year which describes activities conducted under that permit and revenues derived from such activities during the year.

(f) FISHING.—Nothing in this section shall be considered to require a person to obtain a permit under this section for the conduct of any fishing activities in a national marine sanctuary.

NEW SECTION 309 OF THAT ACT

Mr. HOLLINGS, from the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, submitted the following

[To accompany S. 2047]

The Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, to which was referred the bill (S. 2047) to require a health warning on the labels of all alcoholic beverage containers, having considered the same, reports favorably thereon with an amendment in the nature of a substitute and recommends that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

S. 2047, as reported, requires a health warning label on all containers of alcoholic beverages bottled after the date which is 12 months following the date of enactment of the Act. The legislation provides that no health warning statement on containers shall be required under State law, other than the statement provided in the bill.

BACKGROUND AND NEEDS

At the Federal level, responsibility for the regulation of the alcoholic beverage industry is vested by the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (enacted in 1935) (27 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) in the Department of the Treasury, specifically within the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (BATF). That Act contains a section which prohibits the interstate transportation of alcoholic products unless they are labeled in accordance with requirements of the Secretary of the Treasury.

For a number of years, Congress and Federal agencies have considered whether to require that warning labels about various health risks presented by alcohol be placed on alcoholic beverages.

The following are the major legislative/administrative efforts regarding such labels:

In 1967, Senator Strom Thurmond introduced a bill (S. 2500) to require a health warning label on certain alcoholic beverage containers.

In 1977, then-Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration Donald Kennedy urged BATF to require a warning label regarding the risks of alcohol use during pregnancy. In January 1978, BATF issued an advance notice of proposed rule-making requiring such a label, and subsequently postponed a decision on whether to order the label pending further study and alcohol industry education campaigns.

On May 7, 1979, the Senate failed (by a vote of 21 yeas, 68 nays) to table an amendment to S. 440 to require beverages containing more than 24 percent alcohol to bear a warning label. Subsequently, that amendment was agreed to by a voice vote.

The legislation passed by the Senate on May 7, 1979 resulted in Public Law 96-180, which required that the Departments of Treasury and Health, Education, and Welfare undertake a report on educational efforts to inform the public of health hazards associated with alcoholic beverages. In November 1980, the Departments of Treasury and Health and Human Services issued that report, rejecting health warning labels at that time.

In September 1979, a Senate Subcommittee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse staff report recommended that health warning labels be required on all alcoholic beverages to inform consumers of their risks to health, particularly with respect to birth defects from alcohol consumption during pregnancy.

In July 1981, the Surgeon General issued an advisory alerting pregnant women and those considering pregnancy to abstain from alcoholic beverages and to be aware of the alcohol content of food and drugs.

In May 1986, an amendment was adopted in the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee requiring five rotating warning labels on alcoholic beverages. No action occurred on this bill (S. 2443).

On October 27, 1986, Public Law 99-570 expressed the sense of the Senate that the Public Health Service should report to Congress on the use of labels to educate the public on the health effects of alcohol. In August 1987, the Public Health Service's literature review stated that health warning labels can affect consumer behavior, particularly in combination with other educational efforts, provided the labels are correctly designed.

In January 1987, Senator Dennis DeConcini requested that BATF conduct a study of the public benefit of health warning labels on alcoholic beverage containers. BATF has indicated that it will complete this study by November 30, 1988.

In November 1987, the Senate Judiciary Committee adopted an amendment offered by Senator Thurmond to S. 567, a bill amending the Malt Beverage Interbrand Competition Act. The amendment was very similar to S. 2047, as introduced. S. 567 was not considered by the full Senate.

In March 1988, Senator Thurmond offered an amendment on the Senate floor to S. 1904, the polygraph bill. The amendment was very similar to S. 2047, as introduced. Senator Thurmond withdrew his amendment, and no vote occurred on the issue.

On August 10, 1988, the Consumer Subcommittee held a hearing on S. 2047 and received testimony from BATF, the Department of Health and Human Services, State officials, medical authorities, and proponents and opponents of requiring health warning labels on alcoholic beverages.

Advocates of alcohol warning labels maintain that the labels are an important part of an overall educational effort to make the public aware of the health risks associated with alcohol consumption. The advocates believe that labels will ensure that the message is consistently before the public, and will provide information to fill in the gaps in the public's awareness of alcohol-related risks. Those who support the legislation cite medical evidence which indicates correlations between alcohol consumption and negative health effects.

Opponents of the labeling requirement state that such labels are ineffective and unnecessary, because they will not alter the behavior of those who abuse alcohol. Rather than require labels, opponents believe that efforts should be addressed to other educational campaigns and initiatives, including programs to train bartenders and others to identify alcohol consumption problems, posters and warning effects, and designated driver programs among students. The opponents maintain that, since labels will not serve an educational purpose as effectively as other initiatives, they impose a cost and burden which are not justified. In addition, the opponents refer to medical evidence which demonstrates positive effects from moderate alcohol consumption.

Testimony presented to the Committee by BATF indicated that well over 100,000 deaths are attributed annually to alcohol consumption, and that the health hazards related to alcohol consumption comprise one of the nation's most serious problems. The Committee determined that the American public should be informed about these health hazards, and that a clear, nonconfusing reminder of these hazards would be beneficial. The Committee believes that the label in the bill, as reported, would achieve these goals.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

S. 2047 was introduced by Senator Thurmond on February 4, 1988. The Consumer Subcommittee held a hearing on the legislation on August 10, 1988. In open executive session, the bill was ordered to be reported without objection, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute, on September 20, 1988.

SUMMARY OF MAJOR PROVISIONS

The bill, as reported, requires that bottlers affix a warning label to all alcoholic beverage containers bottled 12 months or more after the date of enactment. The label advises of the risks of birth defects in pregnant women, impairment of the ability to operate a car or other machinery, and other potential health problems resulting from the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

The Secretary of the Treasury (the "Secretary") is vested with authority to enforce the legislation. Violators of this requirement are subject to a civil penalty of $10,000 for each day of violation.

The bill preempts State laws which would require a health warning label on containers of alcoholic beverages other than that provided in the legislation.

ESTIMATED COSTS

In accordance with paragraph 11(a) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate and section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee provides the following cost estimate, prepared by the Congressional Budget Office.

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, September 23, 1988.

Hon. ERNEST F. HOLLINGS,
*Chairman, Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has reviewed S. 2047, a bill to require a health warning on the labels of all alcoholic beverage containers, as ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation, September 20, 1988.

Based on information provided by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms, CBO estimates that enacting S. 2047 would result in no significant cost to the federal government, and in no cost to state or local governments. The bill would require health warning labels on all alcohol beverage containers distributed in the United States.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Michael Sieverts.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. BLUM,
Acting Director.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

In accordance with paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee provides the following evaluation of the regulatory impact of the legislation, as reported.

The bill, as reported, authorizes the Secretary to prescribe regulations necessary to enforce the Act. Therefore, it is anticipated that alcoholic beverage bottlers will be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

The Committee does not anticipate that the additional cost from imposing the labeling requirement will be significant.

There should be no impact on the personal privacy of individuals affected.

Some additional paperwork will likely be required, to implement any regulations that may be promulgated pursuant to the Act and in the enforcement of the legislation.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

The bill, as reported, contains one section. Paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) of the section make technical changes to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) necessitated by the addition of a new title, title II, relating to alcohol warning labels. Subsection (b) makes similar technical and conforming changes.

The following discussion relates to the new title II, added by paragraph (3) of subsection (a): \

SECTION 201—SHORT TITLE

This section states the short title, the "Alcoholic Beverage Labeling Act of 1988".

SECTION 202—CONGRESSIONAL DECLARATION OF POLICY AND PURPOSE

Section 202 declares Congressional findings that the American public should be informed about health hazards from the consumption or abuse of alcohol, and that it would be beneficial to provide a reminder about such hazards. The Congress further finds that there should be uniformity in such reminders so as to avoid misleading information and minimize burdens on interstate commerce. Requiring such labels is an appropriate part of advancing the Federal Government's interest in promoting the health and safety of the American people.

The policy of this title is to establish a comprehensive Federal program regarding warnings or other information about the relationship between alcoholic beverages and health, through the exercise of the full reach of the Federal Government's constitutional powers. This will inform the public regarding health hazards from alcohol consumption or abuse, and commerce will be furthered since diverse warnings on alcoholic beverage containers will not be required. This comprehensive program will affect alcoholic beverages manufactured and sold in or affecting interstate commerce, including those alcoholic beverages manufactured and sold in a single State.

SECTION 203—DEFINITIONS

This section defines certain terms used in the title, as follows:

(1) "Alcoholic beverage" includes any beverage in liquid form which is intended for human consumption and contains not less than  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1 percent of alcohol by volume. The term is intended to include distilled spirits, beer, wine, and wine coolers, as well as similar products that may emerge. The term does not cover products that contain some element of alcohol, but are not distributed for use as a beverage. The term also does not include cough syrups and similar products that may contain alcohol but are normally considered medicinal in nature.

(2) "Bottle" means to fill and seal a container with an alcoholic beverage.

(3) "Bottler" means a person who bottles an alcoholic beverage.

(4) "Commerce" means interstate commerce, intrastate commerce that affects interstate commerce, and intrastate commerce wholly within the District of Columbia or the territories and possessions of the United States.

(5) "Container" means the innermost sealed container (without regard to the material from which the container is made) in which an alcoholic beverage is placed by a bottler, and in which an alcoholic beverage is offered for sale to the general public. The legislation is drafted to ensure that the obligation to affix the label to the alcoholic beverage is on the bottler (who fills the container with the alcoholic beverage and seals the container), rather than, for example, on those who only sell the product.

(6) "Health" includes the prevention of accidents.

(7) "Person" includes individuals as well as corporate entities, receivers, trustees, liquidating agents, States, and State employees or agencies.

(8) "Sale" and "distribution" include sampling or any other distribution not for sale.

(9) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury.

(10) "State" includes the District of Columbia, any political subdivision of a State, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

(11) "State law" includes State statutes, regulations and principles and rules having the force of law.

(12) "United States" includes the States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

SECTION 204—LABELING REQUIREMENT; CONSPICUOUS STATEMENT

Subsection (a) of this section requires that, beginning 1 year after the date of enactment of this title, it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, import, or bottle for sale or distribution in the United States any alcoholic beverage which does not contain the following statement:

GOVERNMENT WARNING: (1) According to the Surgeon General, women should not drink alcoholic beverages during pregnancy because of the risk of birth defects. (2) Consumption of alcoholic beverages impairs your ability to drive a car or operate machinery, and may cause health problems.

Testimony at the Committee's hearing indicated that Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is the leading preventable cause of birth defects, and occurs in 1 to 3 per 1,000 live births. Witnesses identified alcohol consumption as altering an individual's perception of risk, an essential part of operating safely automobiles and other machinery. Evidence was also presented that, in some individuals, consumption of alcoholic beverages can cause other health problems. The label the Committee included in the bill, as reported, addresses each of these matters.

The Committee does not intend that the labeling requirement in this subsection require the labeling or relabeling of alcoholic beverages that were bottled prior to the expiration of the 12-month period specified in this subsection.

Subsection (b) requires that, as determined by the Secretary within 90 days after enactment, the above label shall be located in a conspicuous and prominent place on each container of alcoholic beverages, appear on a contrasting background, and be of a certain type size. The Committee specified that these determinations be made within a short time after the enactment of the bill, in order that those with the responsibility to label have as much advance notice as possible regarding the precise requirements with which they must comply. The Committee also anticipates that the Secretary may consider current regulations and will need to take into account variations in the size and shape of individual containers in making the determinations required by this subsection.

Subsection (c) provides that this labeling requirement does not apply to alcoholic beverage containers for delivery or consumption on an aircraft or vessel beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, except those for sale or distribution to members of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Subsection (d) vests the Secretary with the authority to ensure the enforcement of this title, as well as to issue regulations to carry out the title. In vesting this authority in the Secretary, the Committee does not intend to affect the authority of any other agency or department of the Federal Government; the Committee anticipates, however, that other Federal units will take into account the Secretary's authority under the bill, as reported, when exercising their responsibilities.

In addition, this subsection requires the Secretary to consult and coordinate with the Surgeon General regarding the health awareness efforts of the labeling required by this title.

SECTION 205—PREEMPTION

Section 205 states that no State law may require any statement relating to alcoholic beverages and health, other than the statement required under section 204, on any alcoholic beverage container, or box, carton, or other package that contains such a container.

The Committee emphasizes that the bill, as reported, preempts State law requiring the imposition of statements relating to alcoholic beverages and health on any container or box, carton, or other package which contains a container. The provision should not be read to indicate that the states do not have the authority in other areas to impose standards to protect the health and safety of their citizens from hazards associated with the products they consume. Therefore, the bill should not be construed to affect other requirements of the States with regard to alcoholic beverages or other products (e.g., warning posters or notices in bars or other establishments). Also, the bill does not affect remedies or powers that might be available to the States in their enforcement of these requirements, and does not affect any other requirement under Federal law. The Committee anticipates that other Federal units will take into account the Secretary's authority under the bill, as reported, when exercising their responsibilities.

SECTION 206—REPORTED TO CONGRESS

If the Secretary determines, as a result of investigations and consultations beginning 2 years after the date of enactment of this title and after consultation with the Surgeon General, that available scientific information would justify a change in the label required by this title, the Secretary is to report that information to the Congress. This section will enable the Secretary to apprise the Congress of recent developments in the state of scientific knowledge, so that changes in the warning requirement, if appropriate, may be considered. The Secretary is also to include specific recommendations from amendments to this title, as appropriate.

SECTION 207—CIVIL PENALTIES

Section 207 states that any violation of this title is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000, with each day constituting a separate offense. The Committee does not intend that each improperly labeled container constitute a separate violation, without regard to when the violation occurred.

SECTION 208—INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS; COMPROMISE OF LIABILITY

Subsection (a) of this section vests the district courts of the United States with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of this title, on the application of the Attorney General of the United States acting through the U.S. district attorneys.

Subsection (b) of this section authorizes the Secretary to compromise the liability arising from any violation of this Act upon payment of a sum, as determined by the Secretary, for each offense.

SECTION 209—SEVERABILITY

This section declares that the invalidation of any provision of this title or its application to any person or circumstances does not affect the validity of the remainder of this title.

SECTION 210—EFFECTIVE DATE

Section 210 provides that the title becomes effective on the date of its enactment. However, the labeling requirement in section 204(a) does not become effective until 12 months after the date of enactment of this title.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

In compliance with paragraph 12 of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is enclosed in black brackets, new material is printed in italic, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

TITLE II—ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE LABELING

SHORT TITLE

SEC. 201. This title may be cited as the "Alcoholic Beverage Labeling Act of 1988".

DECLARATION OF POLICY AND PURPOSE

SEC. 202. The Congress finds that the American public should be informed about the health hazards that may result from the consumption or abuse of alcoholic beverages, and has determined that it would be beneficial to provide a clear, nonconfusing reminder of such hazards, and that there is a need for national uniformity in such reminders in order to avoid the promulgation of incorrect or misleading information and to minimize burdens on interstate commerce. The Congress finds that requiring such reminders on all containers of alcoholic beverages is appropriate and necessary in view of the substantial role of the Federal Government in promoting the health and safety of the Nation's population. It is therefore the policy of the Congress, and the purpose of this title, to exercise the full reach of the Federal Government's constitutional powers in order to establish a comprehensive Federal program, in connection with the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages in or affecting interstate commerce, to deal with the provision of warnings or other information with respect to any relationship between the consumption or abuse of alcoholic beverages and health, so that—

(1) the public may be adequately reminded about any health hazards that may be associated with the consumption or abuse of alcoholic beverages through a nationally uniform, nonconfusing warning notice on each container of such beverages; and

(2) commerce and the national economy may be—

(A) protected to the maximum extent consistent with this declared policy,

(B) not impeded by diverse, nonuniform, and confusing requirements for warnings or other information on alcoholic beverage containers with respect to any relationship between the consumption or abuse of alcoholic beverages and health, and

(C) protected from the adverse effects that would result from a noncompetitive program covering alcoholic beverage containers sold in interstate commerce, but not alcoholic beverage containers manufactured and sold within a single State.
